

Locum Tenens Can Save You Money

85%
of healthcare facilities utilize locum tenens

WONDER WHY?

Facilities are turning to locum tenens to meet the demand and provide supplemental coverage caused by provider shortages and turnover.

Costly Vacancies

It can take between six months to a year to hire a permanent provider.

Family Practice Physicians

generate almost $2.1 million in gross charges each year. A practice could lose nearly $175,000 each month or $5,700 a day during an unfilled vacancy.

Neurosurgeons can generate roughly $3.4 million in gross charges yearly, resulting in a loss of over $283,000 each month or $9,300 every day.

As these numbers clearly illustrate, one physician vacancy is equivalent to thousands of dollars of lost revenue – every day the position remains unfilled.

Physician Burnout

One provider vacancy can lead to staff fatigue, increasing the risk of another vacancy.

200%

Physician burnout increases the odds by 200% of a physician leaving a practice for reasons other than retirement.

If you already have one vacancy to fill, get it filled quickly before having to deal with another one.

To avoid these costs to your practice, it's vital to fill open positions in a timely manner.
